

After seeing the movie "Everyone is fine",
I wrote the following lines with tears ...

When they were young we were busy,
When we are old they are busy ...

When they needed us, we were not there,
When we needed them, they are not here ...

Yes, we pressured a little, but hoped a lot ...,
Yes, we demanded much, but loved even more ...

No "They and We" but only a family!!!
No judgment but only lots of loves and hopes!!!

No matter what we did and what we said,
all of them were from our heart's hearts ...

Our loves went all the way back ...
when we met twenty-some-years ago.

We have lived and loved for each other.
We have prayed and worshiped for each other.

We really dreamed and are dreaming ...
when they were young we were not that busy ...

We really wished and are wishing ...
when they needed us we were there ...

This is our life and this is your life, not perfect,
but our loves for each other are perfect and deep ...
